How seeded content is used to ensure quality and security

<http://cn.accaglobal.com/news/announcement/gonggao-556.html>

- To balance future exams ensuring equal difficulty.
- To more accurately and reliably determine results.
- To closely monitor security.

Seeded content – essentials

- The CBE will contain 110 marks of exam content:
100 marks contributing to the student result and 10 marks of seeded content that don't.
- The 10 marks of seeded questions will either be 5 OT questions or 1 OT Case (5 OT questions make up 1 OT Case).
- Students will not know which questions are part of the seeded content.

Marking

Principles of marking – the same as paper-based exams

- No negative marking
- The “own figure rule”
- Must show all workings within the answer space
- Spreadsheets – all cell contents visible
- Grammar and spelling mistakes are not penalised
- No additional credit for complicated formatting

In CBE exams, formulae in spreadsheets are visible to the marker, not just the value.

Key exam tips

- Walk through all syllabus
- Fully utilize all resources (e.g. examiner's report, technical articles)
- More question practice
- Time management
- Read the requirement carefully
- Show all your workings
- No guess working
